PURITANS ARE PRAISED.

President Roosevelt Eulogizes the Pilgrim Fathers.

COMMENDS THEM HIGHLY.

Says We Cannot Be Too Grateful For the Fact That Those People Have Stamped Their Influence So Deeply on Our National Life.

Provincetown, Mass., Aug. 20.—There was a vast multitude at this historic town Tuesday to participate in the laying of the cornerstone of the Pilgrim memorial monument, to commemorate the fortitude of the first white settlers of New England. The principal address was delivered by President Roosevelt and its delivery was given close attention.

In his opening remarks the chief executive said: "It is not too much to say that the event commemorated by the monument which we have come here to dedicate was one of those rare events which can in good faith be called of world importance. The coming hither of the Puritan three centuries ago shaped the destinies of this continent, and therefore profoundly affected the destiny of the whole world. Men of other races, the Frenchman and the Spaniard, the Dutchman, the German, the Scotchman, and the Swede, made settlements within what is now the United States, during the colonial period of our history and before the declaration of independence; and since then there has been an ever-swelling immigration from Ireland and from the mainland of Europe; but it was the Englishman who settled in Virginia and the Englishman who settled in Massachusetts who did most in shaping the lines of our national development."

"We can not as a nation be too profoundly grateful for the fact that the Puritan has stamped his influence so deeply on our national life. We need have but scant patience with the men who now rail at the Puritan's faults. They were evident of course, for it is a quality of strong natures that their failings, like their virtues, should stand out in bold relief; but there is nothing easier than to belittle the great men of the past by dwelling only on the points where they come short of the universally recognized standards of the present. Men must be judged with reference to the age in which they dwell, and the work they have to do. The Puritan's task was to conquer a continent; not merely to overrun it, but to settle it, to till it, to build upon it a high industrial and social life; and, while engaged in the rough work of taming the shaggy wilderness, at that very time also to lay deep the immovable foundations of our whole American system of civil, political, and religious liberty achieved through the orderly process of law. This was the work allotted him to do; this was the work allotted him to do; master spirit among men could have done it."

President Roosevelt said we have gained some things the Puritan had not, but we are also in danger of losing certain things which the Puritan had and which we can by no manner of means afford to lose. "We have gained a joy of living which he had not, and which it is a good thing for every people to have and to develop. The man is but a poor father who teaches his sons that ease and pleasure should be their chief objects in life; the woman who is but a mere petted toy, incapable of serious purposes, shrinking from the effort and duty, is more pitiable than the veriest drudge."

The speaker asserted the Puritan owed his success in subduing this continent and making it the foundation for a social life of ordered liberty primarily to the fact that he combined in a very remarkable degree both the power of individual initiative, of individual self-help and the power of acting in combination with his fellows; and that furthermore he joined to a high heart that shrewd common sense which saves a man from the besetting sins of the visionary and the doctrinaire. He was stout hearted and hard headed. He had lofty purposes, but he had practical good sense, too. The president added that these were the qualities which enabled him to do his work, and these are the very qualities which we must show in doing our work today.

"Certain socialistic leaders propose to redistribute the world's goods by refusing to thrift and energy and industry their proper superiority over folly and idleness and sullen envy. Such legislation would merely, in the words of the president Columbia university, wreck the world's efficiency for the purpose of redistributing the world's discontent." We should all of us work heart and soul for the real and permanent betterment which will lift our democratic civilization to a higher level of safety and usefulness. Such betterment can come only by the slow, steady growth of the spirit which metes a generous, but not a sensational, justice to each man on his merits as a man, and which recognizes the fact that the highest and deepest happiness for the individual lies not in selfishness but in service."

OPENING CUN IS FIRED.

Taft Begins Campaign For the Presidency At

BUCKEYE STATE CAPITAL.

Before an Immense Audience Secretary of War Presents His Views Upon Matters of National Interest and His Utterances Applauded.

Columbus, O., Aug. 20.—At Memorial hall, before an immense audience, Secretary Taft made an address under the auspices of the Buckeye Republican club. The city was elaborately decorated in honor of the visitor. In his remarks Mr. Taft touched lightly upon the quickening of the public conscience in a time of apparent general prosperity, abuses in railway discrimination, failure (alleged) of old interstate commerce laws and the causes therefor, the new rate bill recommended, said Mr. Taft, by Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States and saying that outraged public opinion carried the bill, praised the restoration of the jail penalty in the measure.

The Elkins measure was declared to be a meritorious one, but said statistics are lacking as to what it has accomplished.

He opposes government ownership of railroad lines, as follows: First—Because existing government railways are not managed with either the efficiency or economy of privately managed roads and the rates charged are not as low and therefore not as beneficial to the public.

Second—Because it would involve an expenditure of certainly twelve billions of dollars to acquire the interstate railways and the creation of an enormous National debt.

Third—Because it would place in the hands of a reckless executive a power of control over business and politics that the imagination can hardly conceive, and would expose our popular institutions to danger.

Secretary Taft made several references to Hon. W. J. Bryan. He favored placing convicted trust magnates in the penitentiary. References to Mr. Bryan were cheered, interspersed with occasional laughter.

"Mr. Bryan asks me what I would do with the trusts. I answer that I would re-strain unlawful trusts with all the efficiency of injunctive process and would punish with all the severity of criminal prosecution every attempt on the part of aggregated capital through the illegal means I have described to suppress competition."

The secretary referred to other affairs, and later he said, regarding the "Brownsville order":

"The attitude of the president and the war department and the reasons for the action taken in respect to the Twenty-fifth infantry were sufficiently set forth in the communications by the president and by me, sent to congress with the evidence then taken. Since that time, the senate committee on military affairs has taken 3,200 printed pages of evidence on the same matter, and the hearing is not concluded. Until the hearing is closed and the committee makes its report, it would be premature for me, in view of my official relation to the matter, to express an opinion as to the effect of the senate evidence on the issue which the president decided. The other topics I must pass over for lack of time."

Mr. Taft closed by paying this glowing tribute to President Roosevelt:

"I cannot close without comment on the position of advantage for the coming national campaign which President Roosevelt, by the intense earnestness, vigor, courage and success with which he had pressed the reforms that rightly bear his name, has secured to the Republican party. A trimming, do-nothing, colorless policy and corporate abuses would certainly have driven the party from power, however, little responsibility for them could be justly charged to it. It was not political advantage which the president sought in these reforms, but the real betterment of conditions which he has effected. Still the belief of the people in his sincerity, his courage and his amazing quality for doing things on their behalf has won for him a hold on the American public, at which even his bitterest few if any parallels in the political history of this country. Fortunate a party with such a leader."

GARFIELD TO INDIANS.

Through an Interpreter Urges Them to Be Law Abiding.

Tishomingo, I. T., Aug. 20.—In an address here to the Indians Secretary Garfield urged them to obey the law. He said all Indians should go to the polls on election day and vote one way or the other. The Mississippi Choctaw held a short conference with the secretary. They were told to break all whiskey bottles, and if they found a white man in possession of liquor to immediately advise government officials.

BRYAN, TEXAS, AUGUST 21, 1907

How, if they would just pull off the second Thaw trial while the telegraph operators are on a strike, maybe we would be fortunate enough not to hear anything about it.

Japan appears to have appropriated the idea of "benevolent assimilation" of our Pacific possessions by over running them with the brown men until they will have a majority of population.

Taft is said to be coming south to try and jolly some of the democrats into becoming republicans. His real purpose is of course to make good with the southern republicans as the presidential candidate.

George Gould turned his back upon his erstwhile gay and festive brother-in-law, Count Boni De Castellane, in a fashionable London hotel lobby. It is said the Count stood for three snubs before he desisted from his efforts to grasp the check writing hand of the rich American.

Many a man goes west looking for a better country who might more profitably be prospecting on his own farm. How shall he do it? By studying the soil conditions, fertilizer needs, planting carefully selected corn and cotton seed, diversifying and raising good stock.

A number of Houston housekeepers are bewailing their confidence in a certain slick young soap agent who wormed considerable money of them by selling them soap with a chance at a buggy prize, and they have since heard nothing of the soap, the buggy or the young man. Just why people who have plenty of reliable home merchants to deal with will persist in getting themselves skinned by every traveling faker that comes along is one of those things which cannot be explained.

Live every day as if you knew you would live for a hundred years. Do every duty as if you knew you must die today. This was the rule that governed a life that grew into marvelous sweetness and beauty. It is a rule that will make the life thoughtful, useful, restful and trustful. It aids in seeing things from afar as well as close at hand. It guards against neglect of present duties and fear for the future. It leaves all uncertainties of the morrow to God's wise and loving direction, and the present takes on more attractiveness and furnishes greater joy.—Christian Observer.

The total number of scholastics this year will reach above 1,000,000, while last year it was but 869,864. The rate last year was 18c and the Legislature last winter increased the rate to 20c. Notwithstanding the increased number of scholastics and the increase of the rate from 18c to 20c on the $100, it is expected that the per capita will be largely increased. The largest per capita on any previous year was last years when the apportionment showed $5 for every scholastic. The board estimates this year it will be able to make the apportionment in Texas per capita $5.90 for every school child between the ages of 7 and 17 years and then have $5,000 left.

The Cotton Journal has inscribed upon its banner for the season of 1908, the price of fifteen cents for spot cotton, basis middling, at all interior points in the South. We have reached this conclusion after a deliberate and painstaking investigation of the cotton situation in all of its varied phases, and more particularly upon the basis of the legitimate laws of supply and demand. The demand for cotton by the world at high prices is today unprecedented. Consumption of cotton goods at abnormally high prices is only limited to the world's present spinning capacity.

If raw cotton, basis middling, is not truly and intrinsically worth 15 cents per pound, let those who are better posted than we are present the facts and figures to sustain their position. Speculation can no longer regulate spot cotton. The price of spot cotton is now in the hands of the farmers of the South aided and abetted by Southern bankers. — Southern Cotton Journal.

FATHER OF ROCKEFELLER.

Said to Be a Resident of the Sunflower State.

Dallas, Aug. 20.—According to a well known Dallas capitalist, who is also largely interested in cattle raising, the father of John D. Rockefeller is alive and well and lives at Beauvaire, Kan., on a farm owned by Frank Rockefeller, a brother of the famous oil magnate.

"I do not want to be quoted," said the reporter's informant, "because I know Frank Rockefeller personally and I do not wish to enter into this controversy about the whereabouts of his father. Mr. Rockefeller told me that his father was at Beauvaire, Kansas, on his farm. The old gentleman sometimes goes to a ranch in Wyoming, but Beauvaire is his home. "I do not know John D. Rockefeller but I do know Frank, and he is a fine fellow. The report that he is jealous of his brother is all bosh. Frank is worth several million dollars and he and his family will have enough to live on for some time to come. Frank is not the jealous sort. He is a real sport, enjoys life and is the most approachable fellow imaginable. He is the kind of a fellow who would take care of his old man."

ONLY ON PAPER.

Herr Berbel Pays His Respects to the United States.

Stuttgart, Aug. 20.—Herr Berbel, in the course of his reference, at the opening of the International Socialist congress to the Haywood murder trial at Boise, said: "This trial has shown to all the world that in the United States liberty, law and justice exist only on paper. It is to be hoped that these incidents will stir up American workmen so that, like their English comrades, they will soon send a good number of representatives to Washington."

A series of immense meetings were held Sunday, attended by from 40,000 to 50,000 people.

GOMPERS AT HEAD.

Committee of Three to Bring About Settlement of Strike.

Washington, Aug. 20.—President Samuel Gompers of the Federation of Labor, reported of the Federation that he, John Mitchell and D. F. Keef had been entrusted by united labor to attempt to bring about an "honorable adjustment of the telegraphers' strike at an opportune time." Asked when he thought that time would arrive, he replied he could not say.

Actors to Aid Strikers.

New York, Aug. 20.—President Devoe of the Actors' union in New York, says his organization has $50,000 for the striking operators and that benefit performances will be given for the benefit of various locals in all cities.

SUIT FOR TIN CUP.

Arkansas Litigation Involving Matter of Five Cents.

Helena, Aug. 20.—One of the most amusing cases ever tried in Phillips county is that of A. A. Sweefer suing Bruce Rainey of Turner for a 5-cent tin cup. The cup was loaned by Sweefer to Rainey to give a lady a drink during a ball game, and being lost, on return by negro boy. Sweefer pursued Rainey on horseback. Words ensued, and trial before Esquire J. T. Ward. Rainey fined $1 plus $14.25 costs. Case was appealed.

THREE ARRESTS MADE.

Body of Murdered Man Found in Sack Six Years Ago.

Bonham, Tex., Aug. 20.—Three young men were arrested here by the authorities on suspicion of having some connection with the killing of Elbert Pinnion in Fannin county six years ago. The body of Pinnion was found in a cotton sack, but at the time of the killing the officers had no clue. The arrests have caused a sensation.

Soon Reunited.

Hillsboro, Tex., Aug. 20.—As a happy sequence to a judgment rendered in the district court Saturday, the 10th inst., decreeing a divorce between Mr. and Mrs. Addie D. Warren, the two were Sunday evening reunited in marriage at the home they had previously occupied in this city, the ceremony being performed in an impressive manner by Rev. I. W. Holsapple, pastor of the Christian church.

Thompson Chosen.

Dallas, Aug. 20.—H. S. Thompson, principal of the Booker T. Washington school, has been appointed superintendent of the state institution at Austin for the deaf, dumb and blind of the colored race. The place is declared by Superintendent Long to be one of the most desirable positions in the state for negro educators.

NEARLY CUT IN TWO.

Lungs of James W. McLaughlin Drop to the Ground

Houston, Aug. 20.—While sawing stove wood at the establishment of the Brady Woodyard company Tuesday morning W. C. McLaughlin, a middle-aged man, slipped and fell upon the swiftly revolving saw. His body was nearly cut in two, the lungs dropping out. En route to the hospital McLaughlin expired. The sight was a sickening one, the ground about the saw being deluged with blood.

BONAPARTE'S RETIREMENT.

New York Paper Publishes Article on That Subject.

New York, Aug. 20.—The Journal of Commerce publishes a story regarding the possible retirement of Attorney General Bonaparte from the cabinet. It says: "According to important interests in this city very close to the administration the usefulness of Attorney General Bonaparte as a member of the president's cabinet has culminated. It is expected that his immediate retirement will result for such action might be regarded as a sign of weakening the president's anti-trust policy, the construction of which is particularly distasteful to the president, since there is not the slightest justification for it. It is stated, however, the president is not in sympathy with the recent flippant and undignified attitude and at least doubtful legal procedure displayed by the attorney general, but is in all respects opposed to them."

WOMAN KISSES MAN.

He Has Her Arrested and She Has to Pay a Fine.

McKeesport, Pa., Aug. 20.—Because she kissed a man who "looked just too cute" Mrs. M. Kierney, aged thirty, black-eyed, rosy and dimpled, was fined $3 and costs by hard-hearted Mayor Coleman, of McKeesport. Mrs. Kierney blushing paid the fine and promised it wouldn't happen again.

Mrs. Kierney was on a street car when she saw the "cute" man sitting in a corner. She said she couldn't resist the temptation of throwing her arms around his neck and kissing him. The man didn't take kindly to the caress nor the laughter of the other passengers. He jumped off the car and informed a policeman of the happening. Mrs. Kierney was taken to the stationhouse, while the man she kissed escaped.

SHOT TWICE.

Two Bullets Hit Man and His Condition Critical.

Dallas, Aug. 20.—As the result of a difficulty in a planing mill at this city, which occurred at the noon hour Tuesday, J. W. Kerr is lying in a critical condition and W. W. Clawson placed under arrest. Two bullets penetrated the body of Kerr—one just above the right nipple and the other in the left arm. Both of the men are employees of the planing mill where the unfortunate affair took place.

IMPOSING SIGHT.

Fifty Sail and Fishing Boats and Eight Battleships Present.

Provincetown, Mass., Aug. 20.—The laying of the cornerstone of Cape Cod Pilgrim memorial monument in the presence of President Roosevelt, Governor Guild and distinguished guests completed the foundation of one of the most imposing structures along the Atlantic coast, commemorating the first landing, within a few feet of its base of the Pilgrim fathers.

Some fifty sail and fishing boats and eight formidable battleships and boats were at anchor in the harbor, while scattered between the two fleets were a number of yachts from keel to truck with signal flags. President Roosevelt, on board the Mayflower, arrived shortly after 10 o'clock.

OPERATIVES STRIKE.

Nearly Two Hundred Workers Quit Dallas Cotton Mills.

Dallas, Aug. 20.—Some days ago the Textile Workers' union of this city made a demand on the Dallas Cotton Mills company calling, among other things, for a closed shop—that is, that none but members of the union be given employment. This demand was refused, so Tuesday morning between 165 and 200 operatives walked out. Mill officials claim fifty employees refused to obey the strike order, while the union forces assert there are but eleven working, part of them being from the office.

BISHOP'S SON DROWNS.

John Brooke Loses His Life Trying to Save Companion.

Guthrie, Aug. 20.—Word has just been received here of the drowning of John Brooke, only son of Bishop Francis Key Brooke of the Episcopal diocese of Oklahoma, at San Francisco while trying to rescue a companion from a similar fate. The body was sent to the old home at Gambier, O., for burial. Young Brooke was about twenty-one years old. He graduated last year from Kenyon college at Gambier, and had gone to San Francisco to become a member of the faculty of an Episcopal college there.

Heart Strength

Heart strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, no one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more strength, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

Indigestion

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success to favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it is fully cured all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, those poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend 50 Is Construed Law Relating to Automobile Lights.

Austin, Aug. 20.—A serious blunder, or "hiatus," was discovered in the new automobile law of the Thirtieth legislature, and if the law is to be complied with according to the way it reads, automobilists will have to keep their lamps burning day and night. The word "sundown" is left out of the enrolled bill and also in the law. The law now reads that automobilists shall keep lamps lighted one hour after and one hour before sunrise, when it should have been one hour after sunrise and one hour before sundown. Consequently all lamps on autos must be lighted all the time.

The report of the state board of normal examiners has been made public. The report shows there were 3,566 applicants for teachers' certificates and out of that number only 1,598 received certificates, of which 1,550 were to white and 48 to negro teachers. Only a small per cent of the teachers passed the examinations.

The governor has received the report of the financial agent and superintendent of penitentiaries. The financial agent's report shows a balance on July 1 of $52,952. The receipts during the month were $91,915, and the disbursements were $97,122, leaving a balance of $48,314.

The report of the superintendent shows 3,769 convicts in prison on July 1. New convicts received during the month are 105; returned by sheriff, 1; discharged, 46; pardoned, 11; escaped, 16; died, 6; delivered to sheriff, 1; paroled, 2; leaving a balance on hand August 1 of 3,793, an increase of 24 during the month.

JORDON IN TEXAS.

Will Make a Number of Speeches in Lone Star State.

Dallas, Aug. 20.—Hon. Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton association, was here Monday. He had a conference with R. R. Claridge, in charge of the Texas division, and Professor J. H. Connell, both members of the executive committee. Mr. Jordan will speak ten days in Arkansas and Louisiana. He will then return to Texas and make several addresses.

In speaking of his recent European trip Mr. Jordan referred to the great amount of cotton received at Liverpool. It handles 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 bales yearly of American cotton.

Half of the spindles of the world are in Lancashire county, which is about fifty miles square. In this county are located the cities of Liverpool, Manchester and Oldham, which are all industrial centers. There are 50,000,000 spindles in this territory. The labor proposition in this district does not seem to be a difficult one. Good wages are being paid and the farming class is given every opportunity for its betterment. The English industrial leaders are not going to allow any more of their thrifty class to come to America for employment if they can prevent it. They are anxious to retain the services of such people.

Mr. Jordan said he investigated cotton matters at all the principal European cities. Bremen handles each year over 1,000,000 bales of cotton. It is the greatest cotton port of continental Europe. All European countries buy our cotton.

The conference of spinners, growers and other interested in the cotton industry, to be held at Atlanta Oct. 7, 8 and 9, Mr. Jordan said, would be an important one. About 125 foreign delegates are expected.

BADLY CUT IN FACE.

Young Man Was Endeavoring to Silence Intoxicated Individual.

Austin, Aug. 20.—Jesse Jennings, a young man of this city, was badly cut in the face while returning from New Braunfels on the late excursion train Sunday night. A semi-intoxicated man made himself a nuisance to the young lady with Jennings and the latter rebuked him, whereupon the cutting followed. The assailant was made for by several in the car, but brandished his knife, and finally jumped from the train near San Marcos. Three officers are looking for him. Jennings is not seriously cut, though his wounds are painful and may disfigure him.

PERSEVERING SWAIN.

So Insistent on Girl Marrying Him His Arrest Resulted.

Waco, Aug. 20.—Cass Foster, a negro who is in love with his dusky charmer, Paralee Wallace, went to her house when she refused to marry him and with a pistol in one hand and a marriage license in the other demanded that she become his bride. This happened four miles from Waco, and a call had to be telephoned in for officers, as the determined Foster would not leave. He was still patrolling the premises when Deputy Sheriff Alva Tilley arrived, and he was locked up in jail.

A new corporation, to be known as the "International Harvester Company of Texas," is being organized, of which Mr. Johnston will be president. The former agents will be in its employ.

MANSFIELD'S CONDITION.

Great Thespian Does Not Get Any Better.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Richard Mansfield has decided to prolong his stay at Ampersand. All inquiries as the actor's condition are answered by Mansfield's brother, Felix, with the statement that there is no change.

The great actor has been in failing health all summer and grave fears are entertained that it will be a considerable period before he can resume his place on the stage as one of the foremost Thespians of the age.

RICHARD MANSFIELD.

Dr. Lemieux, the distinguished Canadian physician, who was summoned here to attend to Mr. Mansfield when the latter's condition aroused apprehension, declined to discuss the case. But it is asserted on good authority that the physician has told intimate friends of the family that the famous artist will not act again.

HANDED A LEMON.

In This Instance Recipient Gets Genuine Article.

New York, Aug. 20.—According to the passengers on the Cunard liner Carmania, from Liverpool, he was neither young nor old enough to be childish. He was simply one of those offensive creatures who, Carlisle suggested, should be put into a barrel at the age of twelve years and fed through the bung hole until thirty.

The pursuer kept his name a secret, and he hid aboard the steamer until the ship news reporters gave up the desire to find him. He was referred to by the women passengers as "that horrid man" and his daily occupation on the passage from Liverpool to New York consisted in smiling at and annoying women, eating his meals, sleeping one out of twenty-four hours and annoying women some more.

A dozen angry husbands drew lots to see which should have the privilege of whipping him on deck, but they were restrained by timid wives who wished to avoid a "scene."

While the Carmania was proceeding up the bay from quarantine yesterday a young married woman who had been a particular target for the masher throughout the passage reached over toward him at breakfast as if to shake his hand, and handed him a lemon. The man seemed to shrivel up, and some persons at the table declared he melted like the witches into the air. There was only one regret aboard ship. It was felt that he should have received the lemon when two hours out of Liverpool.

Words and Deeds.

"There never was a time in my life, fellow citizens," exclaimed the candidate, "when I hadn't the courage to call a spade a spade!"

"Yes," spoke up an old farmer in the audience, "and there never was a time in your life when you had the courage to take one in your hand!"—Chicago Tribune.

Why He Changed Weapons.

"Here you is—in trouble ag'in," said the old colored deacon. "Didn't I tell yo' ter fight yo' way only wid de sword er de sperit?"

"Yes, suh," replied the penitent, "but de razor come so handy."—Atlanta Constitution.

Sizing Him Up.

"How much money really has he?" "I don't know. What is his attitude toward the law?"

"What do you mean?" "Does he evade, defy or ignore it?"—Washington Herald.

Odd Punishment.

Bigamists in Hungary get odd punishment. The man silly enough to marry two wives is legally forced to live with both of them in the same house.

Careful Boy.

Two American tourists on their way to Abbotsford were in doubt about the road to take and the time it would occupy to get there. Hailing a lad who happened to be passing, they put the necessary questions. The native replied by showing the route, but did not know how long it would take to get there. The tourists resumed their journey, but had scarcely gone a hundred yards when a shout from the boy made them turn.

"It will take you an hour," called the boy at the pitch of his voice.

"Then why the deuce didn't you tell us that before?" returned one of the Americans.

"I couldn't tell ye afore I knew hoo fast ye could walk."—Dundee Advertiser.

IN QUEST OF AN HEIR.

The Great Napoleon and What Might Have Been.

Had Josephine borne Napoleon an heir the history of France and indeed all Europe must have been very different. In the hours of triumph after Wagram Napoleon realized that had the young German fanatic who had come to attempt his life been successful in his mission one thrust from that vulgar kitchen knife which the lad concealed would have shattered all the glories whose fashioning had caused such rivers of blood to flow. He resolved upon the divorce of Josephine.

He would take as his wife a princess and found a dynasty. Whom should he marry? Should it be a princess of the Russian royal house or a princess of another? He slept in the palace of the man whom he had but newly reconquered, the emperor of Austria, and slept, as fate would have it, in the very room in which the heir for whom he prayed was destined to die. Under the roof of the son of the Caesars he resolved to marry that man's daughter.

A little while earlier she had heard that the tide of battle had turned against the French and had written to her father: "We have heard with great joy that Napoleon was present at the battle which was lost. If he would only lose his head as well!" The writer of the words became, ten months after the French troops entered Vienna as conquerors, the bride of the man whose death she now wished.

She was the granddaughter of Marie Antoinette, and by his marriage to her Napoleon believed it would be the salvation of France. A man wiser in the matter than himself had pointed to a Russian marriage, foreseeing renewed hostilities with either Austria or Russia. Napoleon, he said, knew his way to Vienna; he doubted whether he knew the road to St. Petersburg. Napoleon chose to find, as he afterward said, that the marriage was but an abyss strewn with flowers. The marriage led inevitably to the calamitous Russian campaign and to the breakup of his empire. His ruin began with his marriage to the princess who was to be the mother of his child. All France acclaimed the union with joy, which was eclipsed only by the birth of the heir.—St. James' Gazette.

BIRDS' EGGS.

Two infinitesimal white eggs tax the tiny nest of the lovely humming bird.

The catbird in her scrapbook-like nest lays four to six blue green eggs.

Four to six little white eggs are laid in the domestic phoebe bird's beautiful and finished nest.

Blue white eggs of the bobolink may actually be stumbled over as one walks along the high grass.

The mocking bird, of romantic fame, lays from four to six speckled green eggs in her loosely done nest.

Two white eggs occupy the mourning dove's home, which stands for the poorest sort of bird housekeeping.

One of the best architects in the world is the oriole. Its graceful nest contains four to six whitish eggs marked with black and brown.

Oliver gray eggs with brown spots (five of them) occupy the blue jay's bulky nest in a tree crotch high above the ground.—St. Louis Republic.

Their Strange Behavior Explained.

A real estate broker was one day walking down the street with a friend. After proceeding a short distance the friend fell back a step and closed in on the broker's right. They proceeded twenty feet, when the broker backed up, sidestepped and regained his former position.

"Excuse me," said the friend as they proceeded a little farther along and he retreated a step and again slipped around to the right side of the real estate agent.

They continued along together a few more paces when the broker, with an "I beg your pardon," executed the same maneuver and regained the right hand position.

"Say, what's the matter?" demanded the friend.

"Can't hear with my right ear," explained the broker.

"Same here," said the friend.

"Shake."

Where to Find It.

Two sons of Erin shared the same bed as well as the same bottle of whisky. Pat waited till he found Mike slept, when he quietly arose and emptied the bottle. Soon after Mike, waking, stole out of bed and, groping about in the dark, was asked by his companion:

"Phwat are yez lookin' fer, Mike?"

"Oh, nothin'," says Pat.

"Well, Mike," says Mike, "ye'll find it over there in the corner in the bottle."—London Answers.
